

Enjoying Your Food? Thank a Farmworker.

Farmworkers are the backbone of the food supply chain and they make food their business. They feed the world and our local communities. Thank a farmworker because, without them, there is no food.

Behind every bite is a skilled farmworker who is a master of their craft.

Behind every dish is a group of farmworkers who grew those ingredients.

Behind every restaurant is a food supplier fueled by farms.

Behind every farm is a team of farmworkers who provide safe, healthy, and affordable food.

Celebrate 2.6 million farmworkers who make food their business.
